1. ABOUT AUSTRALIAN FOOD SUPER

Australian Food Super is a profit-for-members industry superannuation fund sponsored by the Australian Meat Industry Council. Australian Food Super was originally established to provide benefits for employees of the meat industry and their dependants – but now, Australian Food Super is open to any person over age 15 years, irrespective of the industry in which they are employed. As at August 2023, Australian Food Super had almost 64,000 members, 8,000 participating employers and $2.9 billion in assets under management.

Australian Food Super is operated by a trustee company, Australian Meat Industry Superannuation Pty Ltd, which holds the assets of the fund in trust for the members.

Australian Food Super operates entirely for the benefit of its members – any earnings of the fund are allocated to members, after the payment of operating expenses and maintenance of reserves. The Fund offers a range of different investment options with different asset allocations, including our MySuper option. You can find our MySuper dashboard on our website at ausfoodsuper.com.au/mysuper-dashboard. Other matters we are required to disclose, including executive remuneration, can be found at ausfoodsuper.com.au/disclosure/.

2. HOW SUPER WORKS

Superannuation (super) is a means of saving for retirement which is, in part, compulsory. Tax savings and other benefits provided by the Government make super an attractive long term investment.

Contributions

Generally, if you are employed, your employer must make Superannuation Guarantee (SG) contributions into a super fund for you.

Most people can choose which super fund they'd like their employer contributions paid into. To choose Australian Food Super, provide your employer with a completed My choice of fund form available at ausfoodsuper.com.au > Super > Grow your Super > Taking your super to a new job.

You can also roll over super from other funds, and make personal contributions from your before tax or after tax income (some restrictions based on your age may apply). There are annual caps on the amounts you can contribute to super. If you exceed these caps, you may have to pay extra tax.

Your spouse can make after-tax contributions to your account, and depending on your income, they could receive a tax offset. If your income is less than a certain amount and you make a personal after tax contribution, you may be eligible to receive an additional co-contribution from the Government.

Depending on your circumstances, you may also be eligible for other Government initiatives, like the First Home Super Saver Scheme or Downsizing Contributions.

To find out more, go to ausfoodsuper.com.au/fact-sheets for a copy of the Contributions Fact Sheet.

Investment returns, fees and costs

Australian Food Super invests your money. Your investment returns may be positive or negative, and will vary depending on how your super is invested. Fees and costs (including insurance premiums, if you have insurance) will be deducted from your account.

Withdrawals

Generally, super can be withdrawn if you have reached your preservation age (between 55 and 60 depending on when you were born) and retired, stopped working after age 60, or turned 65. In limited circumstances, it may be accessed earlier.

You should read the important information about superannuation payments before making a decision.

Go to ausfoodsuper.com.au/join-australian-food-super to obtain a copy of the Super Payments Fact Sheet.

The material relating to how super works may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

Want to know more?

You can find further information about superannuation on the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website www.moneysmart.gov.au. The Australian Taxation Office (ATO) website www.ato.gov.au/super contains detailed information about matters like the co-contribution, contribution caps, the First Home Super Saver Scheme and Downsizer contributions.

3. BENEFITS OF INVESTING WITH US

The benefits of investing with Australian Food Super include:

- › low administration fees, to help your super grow.
- › a range of investment options to choose from. If you don't make a choice, you will be invested in our MySuper option;
- › flexible membership, so you can stay with Australian Food Super when you change jobs;
- › online access to your account;
- › option to start an Australian Food Super Pension once you reach your preservation age;
- › simple advice about your Australian Food Super account, over the phone, at no additional cost¹;
- › insurance options to look after you and your family, including automatic Life, Total and Permanent Disability and Income Protection cover for eligible members.

4. RISKS OF SUPER

All investments have some level of risk. Super funds invest in a range of asset classes – for example, cash, fixed interest, property and shares (equities). All of these asset classes have different levels of risk with the expectation that a higher risk option may produce a higher return. The likely investment return and the level of risk of losing money is different for each investment option depending on the underlying mix of assets. Those assets with potentially the highest return over the longer term (such as shares) also have the highest risk of losing money over a shorter term. The appropriate level of risk for you will depend on your age, investment time frame, where other parts of your savings are invested, and your risk tolerance. When considering your investment in super, it is important to understand that:

- › the value of your investment is likely to go up and down over time;
- › returns are not guaranteed and you may even lose some of your money;
- › the level of returns will vary and past returns are not necessarily an indication of future returns;
- › superannuation laws may change in the future; and
- › your future superannuation savings (including contributions and returns) may not be enough to provide adequately for your retirement.

The risks of each of Australian Food Super's investment options are set out in the Investment Guide, available at ausfoodsuper.com.au/join-australian-food-super. Australian Food Super wants to help members plan for their retirement and so we offer simple superannuation advice at no extra cost via our financial planning partner, Link Advice¹, who can help you understand investment risk and design a strategy that is right for you. Link Advice can be contacted via the Member Hotline on 1800 808 614.

1. Australian Food Super has engaged Link Advice ABN 36 105 811 836, AFSL No. 258 145, to provide this advice to members.

5. HOW WE INVEST YOUR MONEY

Australian Food Super has nine investment options, Secure, Capital Stable, Balanced, Growth, Australian Shares, International Shares, Property, Alternatives and MySuper. Each one has a different level of risk and potential level of returns (except Balanced and MySuper, which have identical investments). You can choose one option or a combination of different options.

Warning: You must consider the likely investment return, risk and your investment time frame when choosing which option to invest in.

If you don't make a choice, your super will go into the Fund's default option, MySuper, which is summarised in the table below.

MySuper

We may change the types of investments included in each investment option, add an option or remove one of our investment options at any stage. We will let you know if we do this.

You should read the important information about investments before making a decision. Go to ausfoodsuper.com.au/join-australian-food-super to obtain a copy of the Australian Food Super Investment Guide.

The material relating to how we invest your money may change between the time when you read the Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

6. FEES AND COSTS

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000). You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more or see the impact of fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investment Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

You should read the important information about fees and costs before making a decision. Go to ausfoodsuper.com.au/join-australian-food-super to obtain a copy of the Fees and Other Costs Fact Sheet.

The material relating to fees and costs may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

This section shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your account, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the superannuation entity as a whole.

The information below can be used to compare costs between different superannuation products.

Fees and costs summary

MySuper

1. If your account balance for a product offered by the superannuation entity is less than $6,000 at the end of the entity's income year, certain fees and costs charged to you in relation to administration and investment are capped at 3% of the account balance. Any amount charged in excess of that cap must be refunded.
2. Investment fees and costs includes an amount of 0.06% for performance fees. The calculation basis for this amount is set out under Additional explanation of fees and costs in the Fees and Other Costs Fact Sheet.
3. Investment fees and costs and transaction costs are estimates only. Refer to the Additional explanation of fees and costs in the Fees and Other Costs Fact Sheet for information on how these fees and costs are calculated.

For fee definitions, refer to our Fees and other costs fact sheet found at ausfoodsuper.com.au

Example of annual fees and costs for a superannuation product

Advice fees

Australian Food Super has engaged Link Advice to provide simple financial advice to our members about their account over the phone. This advice is provided at no additional charge - the cost of this advice is covered by the administration fees and costs.

If, however, you require more thorough personal financial advice, Link Advice will provide you with a fixed price quote and any fees are set by agreement between you and Link Advice and provided to you in a Statement of Advice. You can contact Link Advice via the Member Hotline on 1800 808 614.

Changes to fees and costs

We reserve the right to change our fees in the future. Costs may change from time to time. If we increase any of the fees we deduct directly from member accounts, we will notify members 30 days in advance.

7. HOW SUPER IS TAXED

There are a number of ways that super is taxed.

Australian Food Super will deduct any tax that is payable from your account and pay it directly to the Australian Taxation Office.

Warning: In addition to the taxes listed below, if you exceed the contribution caps, additional tax may be payable. Refer to the Taxation Fact Sheet for more information about contribution caps.

- › Before tax contributions, including employer SG and salary sacrifice contributions, are generally taxed at 15%. A higher rate will be payable if your income (including before tax super contributions) is over $250,000, or if we don't have your tax file number.
- › Contributions into your super made from your after-tax income are not taxed.
- › Withdrawals from your account may be taxed if you are aged less than 60. Once you turn 60, generally no tax will apply to withdrawals.
- › Investment earnings are generally taxed at up to 15%. Australian Food Super credits earnings to members' accounts after the deduction of fees and taxes.

You should read the important information about how super is taxed before making a decision.

Go to ausfoodsuper.com.au/join-australian-food-super to obtain a copy of the Taxation Fact Sheet.

The material relating to how super is taxed may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

Warning: You should provide your tax file number when you join a super fund. If you don't tell us your tax file number, you may pay extra tax on your contributions or when you later access your benefit, or not be able to make some types of contributions. It will also be more difficult to trace different super accounts in your name.

8. INSURANCE IN YOUR SUPER

If you are under age 70, your Australian Food Super membership allows you to access the following types of insurance cover:

- › Life,
- › Total and Permanent Disablement (TPD), and
- › Income Protection (IP)

The cost of this cover will depend on your occupation and the amount of cover you have. These costs – known as insurance premiums – are deducted from your Australian Food Super account on a monthly basis.

Depending on your circumstances you may be eligible for Automatic Insurance Cover. If you are not eligible for Automatic Insurance Cover, you can Opt In to turn insurance cover on.

You can also reduce, apply to increase, or cancel your cover at any time by writing to us or calling us. There are also some situations in which we will have to turn your cover off to meet our legislative obligations – we will let you know beforehand if this is the case.

Warning: The Australian Food Super Insurance Guide contains information about eligibility criteria, conditions and exclusions that may affect your entitlement to insurance cover, including the definitions you need to meet to make a claim. You should read the Australian Food Super Insurance Guide in addition to this PDS before deciding if our insurance is appropriate for your needs.

You should read the important information about insurance cover before making a decision. Go to ausfoodsuper.com.au/join-australian-food-super to obtain a copy of the Australian Food Super Insurance Guide.

The material relating to insurance in your super may change between the time when you read this Statement and the day when you acquire the product.

#If you are an office worker, you must let us know by completing the Office Worker Occupation Declaration, available at ausfoodsuper.com.au/forms.

The Trustee claims a tax deduction in respect of the premiums it pays to the insurer. The tax deduction is used by the Trustee to meet the operating costs of running the fund, which includes the costs incurred in administering the Fund's insurance arrangements.

Automatic Income Protection Insurance Cover

Each unit of Automatic IP Insurance Cover represents up to $500 per month of cover. This means the Automatic IP Insurance Cover amount is $2,500 per month.

The maximum benefit period for IP cover is 2 years and the maximum benefit payable is the lesser of 75% of your income, and the amount of cover you have.

A 30 day waiting period applies, during which no benefits are payable.

There are two occupational groups for income protection. All members will be classified as Manual Workers, unless you let us know otherwise.

- Manual Workers - cost of $0.55 per unit of IP cover per week with a default cover level of 5 units. This means the premiums for automatic IP cover for Manual Workers will be $2.75 per week.
- Office Worker - cost of $0.40 per unit of IP cover per week with a default cover level of 5 units. This means the premiums for automatic cover for Office Workers will be $2.00 per week.

The premiums for the automatic level (5 units) of cover include an amount of $0.32 per week which is retained by the Trustee to meet the costs associated with providing Income Protection insurance. This cover stops at age 70.

Cover is provided as new events cover

This means you are not covered for pre-existing conditions until you satisfy certain criteria at which time your cover becomes Full Cover. However, you are covered for any new event that occurs once your cover starts. Refer to the Insurance Guide to find out more.

See the Australian Food Super Insurance Guide – available at ausfoodsuper.com.au/join-australian-food-super for more information about when New Events Cover changes to Full Cover and for all relevant definitions.

Opt In Insurance Cover

If you are not yet age 25 or your account balance is under $6,000, if you want Life, TPD and/or IP Insurance Cover you will need to apply. This is known as "Opting In" to insurance cover.

Depending on when you Opt In, different conditions will apply to the cover provided:

- If you choose to Opt In to insurance cover within 90 days of receiving your Welcome Letter, you won't need to answer any health questions.
- If you choose to Opt In to insurance cover more than 90 days after you receive your Welcome Letter you will need to answer some health questions before cover can be provided.

To Opt In to cover you will need to complete the Opt In form included with your Welcome Letter or available online. The amount of cover provided, and the premiums payable, are the same as for Automatic cover.

You are unable to Opt In to TPD cover without also Opting In to Life cover. Otherwise you can Opt In to the type/s of cover that suit your circumstances.

Increasing your cover

Subject to proof of salary, and acceptance by the insurer, you can increase your IP cover up to $25,000 per month without a health review, (or up to $50,000 per month, subject to a health review). Exclusions may apply, which may be waived in certain circumstances-refer to Special Offers below.

Increasing your Life and TPD cover normally requires health evidence, unless one of the Special Offers applies.

Any additional cover is provided at the same cost per unit of cover as your Automatic or Opt in Insurance Cover.

Special Offers

Generally, you will have 90 days from the day we let you know your Automatic or Opt In cover has started to:

- double the amount of Life and TPD insurance cover you have without the need to complete a medical questionnaire; and/or
- Automatic IP only - increase your IP insurance cover (subject to the limits detailed above) without being subject to an ongoing pre-existing sickness exclusion.

You may also be eligible to increase your life and TPD cover without the need to complete a medical questionnaire for other special Life Events, such as getting married or buying a new home, and can apply to transfer existing cover into Australian Food Super.

See the Australian Food Super Insurance Guide – available at ausfoodsuper.com.au/join-australian-food-super for more information about changing your insurance cover.

Important information about IP cover

- Any IP benefit payments you are eligible for will be reduced by any workcover payments you receive.
- You should consider whether the 5 units ($2500 per month) of cover that is provided automatically or when you opt in is the right level of cover for you, based on your income. If you do not, you risk either being under insured, or paying for more cover than you would be eligible to claim.

If you need help, Link Advice can give you simple advice about insurance cover in Australian Food Super at no extra cost. Call 1800 808 614.

Cancellation of cover on inactive accounts

If you don't receive any contributions or rollovers into your Australian Food Super account for 16 months, your account is considered to be 'inactive' and we are required to turn your insurance cover off under superannuation law. Before we turn your cover off, we will contact you when your account has been inactive for 12 months, 13 months and 15 months. At any point before your account is inactive for 16 months you can let us know that you wish to keep your insurance cover.

Your insurance cover may be cancelled for other reasons. See the Australian Food Super Insurance Guide for full details of when your cover may stop.

Consolidate your super

To transfer super from another fund, simply call the Member Hotline on 1800 808 614 and we'll do the rest!

Cooling-off period

You have a 14 day cooling-off period to ensure that Australian Food Super satisfies your needs. The 14 day period commences on the earlier of the day you receive confirmation of membership or 5 days after your membership starts. Within this period you may cancel your membership, we will return your contributions after deducting any relevant tax and reasonable administration expenses, and making adjustments for any changes in the value of your investments during the period. A request to cancel must be in writing, and you must nominate another super fund to receive your money unless you are eligible to withdraw it as cash.

The Trustee aims to resolve any complaints as soon as possible. However, in some instances a final response may be delayed while the matter is investigated. If you are not satisfied with our response to your complaint, you have the right to escalate the matter to the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA).

AFCA is an independent body set up by the Federal Government to assist members or beneficiaries to resolve disputes with financial service providers including superannuation funds.

You can also choose to complain to AFCA directly, though AFCA may refer your complaint back to us. Access to AFCA is free of charge.

You can contact AFCA as follows:

By telephone: 1800 931 678

By e-mail: info@afca.org.au

Website: www.afca.org.au

In Writing: Australian Financial Complaints Authority
GPO Box 3
Melbourne VIC 3001.

In the event AFCA cannot deal with your complaint, they will let you know.
